Dear Mrs. JONES:

As requested, Riverwalk Casino has prepared and enclosed this report for you as an aid in determining your overall gaming results for the year. This report is based on "rating information" from slot and table game play, and is not based on accounting records.

For table game play, Riverwalk Casino employs raters who observe table game play, record the estimated amounts played by patrons and the estimated amounts patrons have at the end of play, and calculate an estimated win or loss based on the difference. This information is then entered into our computer system ("the System").

For slot machine play, the System has the capability of electronically recording the amounts wagered and paid out as winnings, and calculates a net win or loss. In order to record the coins played and coins paid out, the patron's player card must be inserted in the card reader before play begins and until after the last cash out takes place.

For slot machine play for patrons using a player card, the System electronically records the amount of play, and based on that play and the statistical advantage of the game(s) played over the long run, calculates a theoretical result. The theoretical estimate assumes slot play over the long run and includes the theoretical value of all jackpots won over the long run, but does not take into account short-term considerations such as extraordinary jackpots won over a short time period.

The System then generates a report that combines the estimated rated win or loss for table game play and rated win or loss for slot play to produce an overall rated win or loss for the entire year. However, this report is subject to the assumptions that the rating information entered into the System is accurate and has been maintained, and to those noted above with respect to slot play.

Based on the assumptions, the System reflects that on an overall basis you experienced a $8723 loss in calendar year 2018.

Riverwalk Casino is pleased to provide you with this report as a courtesy to a valued patron. Riverwalk Casino hopes that this report is helpful in corroborating other information and records you have. However, that other information may demonstrate that this report is not accurate. In that event, and because it is your responsibility to accurately determine and report your income, you should use this report only to the extent that you believe it accurately reflects your overall gaming results.

Very truly yours,

Riverwalk Casino Hotel
